

CALL FOR ERAMUS + TRAINEES

Trainee for Stone Workshop - Erasmus + Internship

The Faculdade de Belas-Artes is looking for an Erasmus intern to support the Stone workshop. The candidate should have:

- knowledge of tools and machines for stone sculpture;
- availability to accompany students in the use of machines and tools during classes, under the supervision of the class' Professor;
- degree in Sculpture (or Fine Arts), preferably at an advanced level (end of BA degree or MA student);
- previous experience in the area.

Trainee for Glass Workshop - Erasmus + Internship

The Faculdade de Belas-Artes is looking for an Erasmus intern to support the Glass workshop. The candidate must:

- have the ability to work on practical projects, which require physical effort to prepare and carry out;
- be a friendly person with good communication skills;
- have availability to help students (i.e. this internship is to help in the functioning of the class, it is not a residence);
- if possible, should have knowledge of different techniques of glass fusing and making plaster casts or disposition to learn;
- have a degree in Sculpture and/or Painting (or Fine Arts), preferably at an advanced level (end of BA degree or MA student).
- have a practical spirit and enjoy working with materials such as plaster, silica, cement, sand, various pigments, clay, kaolin and vitreous enamels, among others (the trainee must not be allergic to these materials, as they will be working with them permanently).
